COMMENCEMENT

LANCASTER GRADED AND HIGH SCHOOL GIVE WEEK OF ENTERTAINMENT.

The closing exercises of the Lancaster Graded and High School, beginning with the Senior Play, last Friday night and ending with the High School Commencement this evening, comes as a fitting climax to a successful year's work, which has had the united support of the entire community. Every entertainment has elicited the most favorable comments and the large audiences that have greeted every event speaks well for all the exercises. The Trustees and Faculty should be gratified at the work of the past year and no doubt are grateful for the hearty support they have received from the patrons and community in general.

Senior Play.

It is doubtful if any home-talent ever produced greater enthusiasm than did the High School students, with their presentation of the drama, "Claim Allowed". The Auditorium was literally packed and standing room was at a premium. The play was under the direction of Mrs. Robert Todd, whose excellent coaching of the players, was largely responsible for the success of the presentation. It is unfortunate indeed that Mrs. Todd is not to be the head of the Expression and Dramatic Art department of the school for another year. She did not apply for the position and her absence from the school will be deplored by the many friends she has made since coming to Lancaster three years ago. At her suggestion an admission was charged to see the Senior Play, the entire proceeds to be given to the Red Cross local chapter and the Junior Red Cross. The proceeds netted these organizations about $165.00.

The play abounds in lines of stirring patriotism, and these delivered most effectively by the players, aroused the highest pitch of enthusiasm among the large audience. So touching, too, were several scenes, and so suggestive of the actual scenes being enacted at this time throughout the country that the audience frequently was in tears. Every member of the cast acquitted himself with the highest credit, showing the naturalness and poise of seasoned performers. Robert Noland, as Mr. LaFohl, the manufacturer of munitions, who at first saw in the war only a means of accumulating a fortune, who later hears the call of his country, interpreted his part unusually well. Especially impressive was he, when he bade his son farewell when the latter was leaving for war. Miss Ruth Carrier, as Mrs. LaFohl, fixed a high standard for High School work. So tenderly and sympathetically did she enact the part of the mother sending her son forth to battle, that there were few in the audience, who were not moved to tears. Bowman Grant, as Dabney LaFohl, the patriotic son, was all that could be desired. Miss Florence Acton, who took the part of Ethel LaFohl, who dared to cling to her soldier lover over her father's protest and disinheritor, and who went to the front as a Red Cross nurse, was almost perfectly presented. Miss Mary Lee Lear, as Lillian Carmen, gave a most finished performance. Her reading of her lines was excellent, and she displayed much dramatic ability. One of the most difficult parts, that of Tom Bradley, was ably taken care of by James Siler, who displayed genuine ability in the scene where, as a wounded soldier, he describes in the delirium of fever, the attack of the enemy. The comedy of the play was furnished by Neb, the butler. This part was taken by Val Cook, who delighted the audience with his acting. His dialect was beyond criticism, and his mannerisms were in perfect accord with those of the old negro servant. The other members of the cast, all of whom brought out every possibility of their parts, were, Coleman Sanders, Richard Henry, Christine Sanders, Richard Henry, Nancy Hagan, Mary Owsley, William Anderson, Mildred Beazley and Homer Carrier.

Piano Department Recital.

Saturday afternoon, at three o'clock, the auditorium was well filled with pupils and patrons, eager to hear the Recital by the Piano Department, assisted by the Primer grade, under the leadership of Mrs. May Hughes Noland. We wish we had the room to tell how well all these pupils acquitted themselves. The following had numbers on the program and did their part well: Anna Britton Moss, Bernice Champ, Mary Lee Lear, Nell Noland, Maude

Davis, Ruby Moss, Virginia Beazley, Mattie Mae Hubbell, Mary Palmeter, Elsie Hatfield, Mamie Stamp, Lavonne Dickerson, Faye King, Nancy Thomas Lear, Margaret Elliott, Francis Palmeter, and Bessie Moss. Baccalaureate Sermon.

The auditorium was again well filled Sunday evening, to hear the baccalaureate sermon delivered by Dr. M. H. Adams, of Georgetown, to the graduating class. Dr. Adams is president of Georgetown College and a speaker of ability. The graduating class entered as a body and together with the trustees occupied seats in the center aisle near the front.

On Monday evening at eight o'clock, the Piano Department assisted by the Girls Glee Club, gave a delightful program, everyone on the hill doing their part well, all of which was enjoyed by another large audience.

Tuesday evening brought out the humper audience of the week, to witness the Patriotic Operetta, practically every grade in the school having some part in this delightful little entertainment.

The Expression Department of both the Graded and High School rendered a recital Wednesday evening, which was thoroughly enjoyed, the entire class taking some part on the program.

The Commencement exercises at the Auditorium this evening brings the school to a close, when Prof. J. C. T. Noe, head of the School of Education of the University of Kentucky, will deliver the address to the graduating class. After which the presentation of the diplomas to the following graduates will take place: Clayton Morrow, Wilma Henry, Mary Lee Lear, Robert Ross, Val Cook, James Siler, Coleman Sanders, Ruth Carrier, Christine Sanders, Mary Owsley, Mildred Benzley, Florence Acton, Nancy Hagan.

GERMAN SUBMARINES

Sink Eleven Ships Off New Jersey Coast.

Germany's sea wolves—the submarines which have caused so much devastation during the war—are preying on commerce in the Atlantic Ocean just off the shores of the United States. They are known to have sunk at least nine vessels, only a short distance out of sight of land off the Southern New Jersey shore.

It is feared that still other vessels have been sent to the bottom by the marauders, the movements of which have been reported at various times during the last fortnight by ships coming into port from Southern waters. Thus far eleven lives are known to have been lost in the sinkings. A majority of the vessels were sunk with bombs after their crews had been forced to take to the ships' boats.

Members of the crew of the schooner Edward H. Cole, one of the victims of the German U-boat, told of the sinking of their vessel and of the fight which at least one large merchant steamship gave the underwater craft before being sunk. The U-boat was described as being 250 feet in length and carrying guns fore and aft.

MARRIED MEN

TO BE CALLED.

The new selective service regulations now being prepared by Provost Marshall, General Crowder, will revoke deferred classifications granted men married since May 18th, 1917, and place them in Class 1, so say recent dispatches from Washington. It is estimated that there are more than 200,000 such cases in the country. It is said that Crowder will materially restrict dependency allowances in the new regulations which are being prepared to increase the number in Class 1.

EGG CANDLER HERE.

Mr. A. M. Barry, of the United States Department of Agriculture, was in Lancaster last Tuesday, demonstrating to the people of the county the importance of having their eggs tested and just how it was done. Under a recent ruling of the Federal Food Administration, all eggs purchased by dealers throughout the county, which includes merchants also, must be candled by the purchaser and all inferior eggs destroyed or returned to the producer. So rigid is this rule to be enforced, the government has ordered that blanks be supplied by the dealers and a register of all eggs purchased must be recorded.

$11,509.95*GARRARD'S RED CROSS FUND STILL GROWING.*More Names This Week and Next.

Garrard County's gift to the Second Red Cross Campaign is $11,509.95; over 65 per cent of the quota allotted to the county. This is a splendid showing, but the people of Garrard County are ready and willing to give that much more to the Third Campaign when asked for it. One $50.00 Liberty Loan Bond and one $5.00 War Saving Stamp, was donated by Mr. Banks Hudson, to the county school teacher collecting the largest amount of money in her district for this Red Cross campaign and to the county school teacher who turned in the largest number of names regardless of amount, respectively. The money to be used in the districts as the winner thinks best.

Miss Brunette Arnold of West Point School No. 37 gets the Liberty Loan Bond with a total of $234.50.

Miss Eva Merryman, of the Cartersville District, No. 2, gets the War Savings Stamp with a total of 87 names.

The Buena Vista Consolidated School collected the sum of $285.00 for the Red Cross. Most of this money was obtained by Miss Myrtle Ruble who deserves the greatest credit for her good work for the cause. Miss Ruble collected in the High Bridge District alone the sum of $168.25.

In the printed list of contributions to the Red Cross several errors were made in the copy. Mr. R. K. Sparks was down for $50.00 when it should have been $10.00. The contribution of Mr. and Mrs. R. I. Burton, was duplicated as was the report of School District No. 40.

We had hoped to complete the publication of all those on the Red Cross Honor Roll list in this issue, but found it impossible, so the list will be concluded in our next issue. If any names have been unintentionally omitted, we would thank such persons to call our attention to it.

SYNOPSIS.

CHAPTER I—Fired by the news of the attack on the Lusitania, by a German submarine, Arthur Guy Empey, an American, leaves his office in Jersey City and goes to England where he enlists in the British army.

CHAPTER II—After a period of training, Empey volunteers for immediate service and soon finds himself in rest billets "somewhere in France," where he first makes the acquaintance of the ever-present "cooties."

CHAPTER III—Empey attends his first church service at the front while a German Fokker circles over the congregation.

CHAPTER IV—Empey's command goes into the front-line trenches and is under fire for the first time.

CHAPTER V—Empey learns to adopt the motto of the British Tommy, "If you are going to get it, you'll get it, so never worry."

CHAPTER VI—Back in rest billets, Empey gets his first experience as a mess orderly.

CHAPTER VII—Empey learns how the British soldiers are fed.

CHAPTER VIII—Back in the front-line trench, Empey sees his first friend of the trenches "go West."

CHAPTER IX—Empey makes his first visit to a dugout in "Suicide Dick."

CHAPTER X—Empey learns what constitutes a "day's work" in the front-line trench.

CHAPTER XI—Empey goes "over the top" for the first time in a charge on the German trenches and is wounded by a bayonet thrust.

CHAPTER XII—Empey joins the "suicide club" as the bombing squad is called.

CHAPTER XIII—Each Tommy gets an official bath.

CHAPTER XIV—Empey helps dig an advanced trench under German fire.

CHAPTER XV—On "listening post" in No Man's Land.

CHAPTER XVI—Two artillerymen "put one over" on Old Pepper, their regimental commander.

CHAPTER XVII—Empey has narrow escape while on patrol duty in No Man's Land.

CHAPTER XVIII—Back in rest billets Empey writes and stages a farce comedy.

CHAPTER XIX—Soldiers have many ways to amuse themselves while "on their official bath."

CHAPTER XX—Empey volunteers for machine gun service and goes back into the front-line trenches.

CHAPTER XXI—Empey again goes "over the top" in a charge which cost his company 17 killed and 51 wounded.

CHAPTER XXII—Trick with a machine gun silences one bothersome Fritz.

CHAPTER XXIII—German attack, preceded by gas wave, is repulsed.

CHAPTER XXIV—Empey is forced to take part in an execution as a member of the firing squad.

CHAPTER XXV—British prepare for the Big Push—the battle of the Somme.

CHAPTER XXVI—In a trench raid, preceding the Big Push, Empey is desperately wounded and lies unconscious in No Man's Land for 36 hours.

CHAPTER XXVII—After four months in a British hospital, Empey is discharged as "physically unfit for further war service."

went through a course in bombing here we were instructed in the uses, methods of throwing and manufacture of various kinds of hand grenades, from the old "jam tin," now obsolete, to the present Mills bomb, the standard of the British army.

It all depends where you are as to what you are called. In France they call you a "bomber" and give you medals, while in neutral countries they call you an anarchist and give you "life."

From the very start the Germans were well equipped with effective bombs and trained bomb throwers, but the English army was as little prepared in this important department of fighting as in many others. At bombing school an old sergeant of the Grenadier guards, whom I had the good fortune to meet, told me of the discouragements this branch of the service suffered before they could meet the Germans on an equal footing. (Factualists and small army people in the U. S. please read with care.) The first English expeditionary forces had no bombs at all, but had eked a lot of casualties from those thrown by the Boches, the bright morning someone higher up had an idea and issued an order detailing two men from each platoon to go to bombing school to learn the duties of a bomber and how to manufacture bombs. Noncommissioned officers were generally selected for this course. After about two weeks at school they returned to their units in rest billets or in the front trench, as the case might be, and got busy teaching their platoons how to make "jam tins."

Previously an order had been issued for all ranks to save empty jam tins for the manufacture of bombs. A professor of bombing would sit on the fire step in the front trench with the remainder of his section crowding around to see him work. On his left would be a pile of empty and rusty jam tins, while beside him on the fire step would be a miscellaneous assortment of material used in the manufacture of the "jam tins."

Tommy would stoop down, get an empty "jam tin," take a handful of clay and mud from the parapet, and line the inside of the tin with this substance. Then he would reach over, pick up his detonator and explosive, and insert them in the tin, fuse protruding. On the fire step would be a pile of fragments of shell, shrapnel, bits of iron, nails, etc.—anything that was hard enough to send over to Fritz; he would scoop up a handful of this junk and put it in the bomb. Perhaps one of the platoon would ask him what he did this for, and he would explain that when the bomb exploded these bits would fly about and kill or wound any German hit by same; the questioner would immediately pull a button off his tunic and hand it to the bomb maker with, "Well, blame me, send this over as a souvenir," or another Tommy would volunteer an old rusty and broken jackknife; both would be accepted and inserted.

Then the professor would take another handful of mud and fill the tin, after which he would punch a hole in the lid of the tin and put it over the top of the bomb, the fuse sticking out. Then perhaps he would tightly wrap wire around the outside of the tin, and the bomb was ready to send over to Fritz with Tommy's compliments.

A piece of wood about four inches wide had been issued. This was to be strapped on the left forearm by means of two leather straps and was like the side of a match box; it was called a "striker." There was a tip like the head of a match on the fuse of the bomb. To ignite the fuse, you had to rub it on the "striker," just the same as striking a match. The fuse was timed to five seconds or longer. Some of the fuses issued in those days would burn down in a second or two, while others would "sizz" for a week before exploding. Back in Blighty the munition workers weren't quite up to snuff, the way they are now. If the fuse took a notion to burn too quickly they generally buried the bomb naker next day. So making bombs could not be called a "cushy" or safe job.

After making several bombs the professor instructed the platoon in throwing them. He takes a "jam tin" from the fire step, trembling a little, because it is nervous work, especially when new at it, lights the fuse on his striker. The fuse begins to "sizz" and sputter and a spiral of smoke, like that from a smoldering rag, rises from it. The platoon splits in two and ducks around the traverse nearest to them. They don't like the looks and sound of the burning fuse. When that fuse begins to smoke and "sizz" you want to say good-by to it as soon as possible, so Tommy with all his might chuck it over the top and crouches against the parapet, waiting for the explosion.

Lots of times in bombing the "jam tin" would be picked up by the Germans, before it exploded, and thrown back at Tommy with dire results.

After a lot of men went West in this manner an order was issued, reading something like this:

"To all ranks in the British army: After lighting the fuse and before throwing the jam-tin bomb, count slowly one! two! three!"

This in order to give the fuse time enough to burn down, so that the bomb would explode before the Germans could throw it back.

Tommy read the order—he reads them all, but after he ignited the fuse and it began to smoke—orders were forgotten, and away he went in record time and back he came to the further discomfort of the thrower.

Then another order was issued to count, "one hundred! two hundred! three hundred!" But Tommy didn't care if the order read to count up to a thousand by quarters, he was going to get rid of that "jam tin," because from experience he had learned not to trust it.

When the powers that be realized that they could not change Tommy they decided to change the type of bomb and did so—substituting the "hair brush," the "cricket ball," and later the Mills bomb.

The standard bomb used in the British army is the "Mills." It is about the shape and size of a large lemon. Although not actually a lemon, Fritz insists that it is; perhaps he judges it by the havoc caused by its explosion. The Mills bomb is made of steel, the outside of which is corrugated into 48 small squares, which, upon the explosion of the bomb, scatter in a wide area, wounding or killing any Fritz who is unfortunate enough to be hit by one of the flying fragments.

Although a very destructive and efficient bomb the "Mills" has the confidence of the thrower. In that he knows it will not explode until released from his grip.

It is a mechanical device, with a lever, fitted into a slot at the top, which extends half way around the circumference and is held in place at the bottom by a fixing pin. In this pin there is a small metal ring, for the purpose of extracting the pin when ready to throw.

You do not throw a bomb the way a baseball is thrown, because, when in a narrow trench, your hand is liable to strike against the parapet, traverse or parapet, and then down goes the bomb, and, in a couple of seconds or so, up goes Tommy.

In throwing the bomb and lever grasped in the right hand, the left foot is advanced, knee stiff, about one and a half its length to the front, while the right leg, knee bent, is carried slightly to the right. The left arm is extended at an angle of 45 degrees, pointing in the direction the bomb is to be thrown. This position is similar to that of shot putting, only that the right arm is extended downward. Then you hurl the bomb from you with an overhead bowling motion, the same as in cricket, throwing it fairly high in the air, this in order to give the fuse a chance to burn down so that when the bomb lands, it immediately explodes and gives the Germans no time to counter out of its range or to return it.

As the bomb leaves your hand, the lever, by means of a spring, is projected into the air and falls harmlessly to the ground a few feet in front of the bomber.

When the lever flies off it releases a strong spring, which forces the firing pin into a percussion cap. This ignites the fuse, which burns down and sets off the detonator, charged with fulminate of mercury, which explodes the main charge of ammonal.

The average British soldier is not an expert at throwing; it is a new game to him, therefore the Canadians and Americans, who have played baseball from the kindergarten up, take naturally to bomb throwing and excel in this act. A six-foot English bomber will stand in awe of silence when he sees a little five-foot nothing Canadian outdistance him by several yards.

I have read a few war stories of bombing, where baseball pitchers curved their bombs when throwing them, but a pitcher who can do this would make "Christy" Mathewson look like a piker, and is losing valuable time playing in the European War hush league, when he would be able to set the "big league" on fire.

We had a cushy time while at this school. In fact, to us it was a regular vacation, and we were very sorry when one morning the adjutant ordered us to report at headquarters for transportation and rations to return to our units up the line.

Arriving at our section, the boys once again tendered us the glad mitt, but looked askance at us out of the corners of their eyes. They could not conceive, as they expressed it, how a man could be such a blinking idiot as to join the Suicide club. I was beginning to feel sorry that I had become a member of said club, and my life to me appeared doubly precious.

Now that I was a sure-enough bomber I was praying for peace and hoping that my services as such would not be required.

CHAPTER XIII.*My First Official Bath.

Right behind our rest billet was a large creek about ten feet deep and twenty feet across, and it was a habit of the company to avail themselves of an opportunity to take a swim and at the same time thoroughly wash themselves and their underwear when on their own. We were having a spell of hot weather, and these baths to us were a luxury. The Tommies would splash around in the water and then come out and sit in the sun and have what they termed a "shirt hunt." At first we tried to drown the "cooties," but they also seemed to enjoy the bath.

BIG AUCTION SALE

OF

2-Boyle County Farms-2

ON

SATURDAY, JUNE 8th.

AT 9:30 O'CLOCK.

172 Acres for R. G. Williams and 148 Acres for J. M. McGraw.

LOCATION---Three miles from Danville on the Hustonville Pike. This pike is new and smooth as a floor.

DESCRIPTION--The 172 acre farm is nearly level, well watered and well fenced, 30 acres in corn, 15 acres in millet, balance in grass. A two story eight room dwelling, two halls and three porches, newly painted and papered, electric lights, located 200 yards from pike with beautiful avenue. This is a SHOW PLACE.

DESCRIPTION--The 148 acres is just across the pike and has a new four room, metal roof, bungalow, with two porches, concrete cellar and cistern, large barn 30x60, everlasting water 85 acres in corn, 20 acres in oats sown to clover, balance in grass, beautiful frontage on pike.

Both of these farms are in a high class state of cultivation and are ready to make money on. Possession of all the land given at once.

The man who buys now will save money and make money, as lands are going to sell a great deal higher this fall. NOW is the time for the thinking man to buy, whether he buys for a home or for speculation.

Remember very few farms are now on the market, owners are holding for higher prices, but at this sale the bidders will fix the price as these farms will be sold to the "HIGH DOLLAR" with no buy-bidding.

Remember ten minutes from Danville, the best town of its size in Central Kentucky. These farms are located within a mile of two great trunk lines, the L. and N. and the Queen and Crescent.

LOCATION RIGHT; IMPROVEMENTS RIGHT; LAND FERTILE; POSSESSION AT ONCE; EVERYTHING TO SUIT ANY PURCHASER.

Each farm will be sub-divided and sold in from 20 to 100 acre tracts, or perhaps may be offered as a whole. In other words I always sell land to suit the bidders.

At the same time and place will also sell for the owners of the land a lot of fine live stock and farming implements, consisting in part of the following: two five year old shorthorn cows and calves, one two-year-old shorthorn cow and calf, two two-year old Aberdeen-Angus cows with calves, one four-year old Hereford cow and calf; one six-year old shorthorn cow and calf; one 1200 pound shorthorn cow, one black cow and one jersey cow to be fresh soon. These cows are practically pure bred and splendid individuals and heavy milkers.

One nine year old work horse, one seven-year old work mare; one good driving mare; one pony; two fine Hampshire brood sows; seven 90-pound Hampshire shoats; eight 60-pound Hampshire shoats.

One pair of four-year old work mules; one gentle driving mare; one six-year old work horse; one five-year old black mare and colt, subject to registration; four fine jersey cows, one with young calf; five head of yearling cattle; one jersey heifer; four good steers; one sow and eight pigs; two brood sows; two gilts.

FARMING IMPLEMENTS: two disc-harrows, 2 drag harrows; four turning plows; two cultivators; two good farm wagons; three buggies; one mowing machine and hay rake, one one-horse wagon; alot of plows; plow gears, wagon and buggy harness, single and double. In fact everything used by an up-to-date farmer. One cane mill and evaporator, two stands of bees; one cream separator, about 150 chickens and 150 young chicks; a lot of turkeys, geese, etc. Some household and kitchen furniture.

THE SALE WILL BE HELD RAIN OR SHINE. PLENTY OF DINNER FOR EVERYBODY.

Don't fail to attend as this will be the "BIG SALE" of the year in Boyle County and perhaps the LAST CHANCE to buy Boyle County land at public auction this year.

For further particulars inquire of Mr. J. M. McGraw or Mr. S. Spradling, at the farms, who will take pleasure in showing the farms before date of sale, or see

FARMERS MEETING SATURDAY AT THREE O'CLOCK

The 1918 Wheat Crop Must Be Thrashed And Saved.

The Government is urgently calling for the earliest possible delivery of the 1918 crop of wheat. The supply from the 1917 crop is almost exhausted and in order to get the new crop on the market at an early date the Federal authorities have appointed a committee in every County in the wheat growing belt. Dr. Wm. Elliott, J. E. Robinson, and County Agent Rogers composed what is called a Wheat Thrashing Committee for the County and they have called a meeting of the owners of thrashing machines to meet the farmers at the Court House at 3 o'clock P. M., next Saturday. The present crop of wheat promises to be the best raised in many years. The world is in greater need of our wheat crop than any other kind of food stuff.

On account of the scarcity of labor or the thrashing of this wheat crop in this County is going to be a problem to the farmers, as well as the thrashing machine operators, but by a close co-operation between them good results could be obtained. Every wheat grower of the County should attend this meeting with the view of organizing the County in order to get this crop of wheat thrashed and on the market. Don't forget this meeting.

PROFESSOR CHAPMAN

Speaks To Teachers and Trustees.

Last Saturday afternoon, the teachers and trustees of the rural schools of the county were highly entertained by Prof. Virgil Chapman, Supervisor of the Rural Schools of Kentucky. He spoke very forcibly upon the Compulsory school law and impressed upon the teachers the importance of seeing that all children of school age attend every day. He thought that every thing possible should be sacrificed to win the war, but not to the detriment of educating the children of the country. He emphasized the importance of the teachers holding sessions every day in the week and not to give way to every holiday, but to teach them the reason and history of such holidays. It was a most excellent address and no doubt that all present were inspired to put forth even greater efforts in behalf of their respective schools than ever before.

RESOLUTIONS.

At the regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the National Bank of Lancaster, held June 4th 1918, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"Whereas, This board expresses deep regret at the death of Samuel D. Cochran, a director of the National Bank of Lancaster, which occurred May 5th, 1918,

"Resolved, That by the death of our associate director, Mr. Samuel D. Cochran, the institution, of which he was a director, has suffered a great loss and those interested therein a most conscientious and considerate guardian of their varied interests; that our city has lost an upright and influential citizen, who always had the best interests of the city at heart; a most affable and courteous gentleman has been called to his final reward, and his memory will ever be cherished by all of the people of our community.

Resolved further, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the family of the deceased, a copy to the Central Record, and the same be recorded in the record book of the Bank.

KHAKI COLUMN

Beautiful memorial services were held by the local members of the Brynnsville W. C. T. U., last Thursday afternoon, in honor of George Canter, who lost his life on the Nevada, on May 15th. This splendid young man was 23 years old and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Canter, of Camp Nelson. By accident he was struck in the back of the head by a piece of metal and instantly killed. His remains were brought to Nicholasville last week and were accompanied by Lieut. Nelson and the deceased gunnate. The parents received a beautiful letter from Lieut. Nelson, deploring the death of their son, which was read at the services last Thursday.

BREWER LAYTON.

Friends here in Garrard and elsewhere will be glad to hear that Brewer Layton, who arrived in France several weeks ago and for sometime was laid up in a hospital from an attack of measles, is now out again and has already joined his company. The above is a splendid likeness of the popular young man, whom his friends predict will make good on the foreign fields of battle. He is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Terrill Layton, of this county.

Sergeant J. W. Swope, of Camp Taylor, spent Sunday with his home-folks. He belongs to the Lincoln Division, which will be transferred to Camp Sherman, Ohio, this week, and from thence, will soon be sent "over there".

Glass B. Carrier, who enlisted at Ft. Thomas, about three weeks ago has been sent to the Mexican border. He is pleased with the life and would be glad to hear from his friends. His address is, Camp Stewart, 10th, Recruit Troop, Ft. Bliss, Texas. Drop him a line girls.

Lieut. Frank L. Moye, Reserved Military Aviator, en route to Camp Dick, Dallas, Texas, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Robert Elkin, at "Elkin Place". Lieutenant Moye is a graduate of the School of Military Aeronautics, of the University of Texas. He had elementary and advanced flying at Ellington Fields, near Houston, Texas.

Lieut. Collier C. Dawes, son of Dr. and Mrs. B. A. Dawes, of Brynnsville, is rapidly coming into prominence at Camp Zachary Taylor in connection with athletic affairs. Lieut. Dawes is athletic director of the 33rd regiment at the camp, and the Louisville papers compliment his work very highly. A recent issue of the Courier-Journal publishes an excellent half-tone photo of Lieut. Dawes, with the following comment: "Lieut. C. C. Dawes is the regimental athletic officer of that unit, and is a man who is always on the alert to see that his proteges get all that is coming to them in an athletic way. He has been very successful in stimulating interest in sports among the members. Recently Lieut. Dawes took a detail of men from Camp Zachary Taylor to Camp Dodge, where they participated in a dual boxing and wrestling tourney, a return date for which is now being arranged in favor of the local team."

The marriage of Lieut. James Phillips, well known here where he has many friends, was married at Camp Zachary Taylor last Saturday. Sunday's Courier-Journal contained the following interesting account of the wedding.

"In Henry Clay's old tallyho coach Lieut. James W. Phillips rode last night to the Seelbach with his bride of an hour before. Four great artillery horses drew the vehicle, while fellow officers rode inside and on top of the antiquated vehicle. With a bugler sitting beside him, Capt. Roy Baxter drove the four-in-hand.

Perhaps a similar wedding procession has not gone through Louisville streets since ante-bellum days, but the vehicle minus the finery is the same style in which wedding parties started on honeymoons in the early fifties. The appearance of the vehicle on Fourth street caused much amusement and curiosity.

Just as the party alighted at The Seelbach, Capt. Baxter, who is an incurable wit, had the bugler blow "taps".

The bride was Miss Hazel Paine, of Columbus, Ga. Lieut. Phillips is a native of Lebanon Ky. He is attached to the Quartermaster's Corps, at the Remount station. The ceremony was performed last night at 7:30 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. building at the Remount Station. A canopy of flowers arranged by soldiers was swung from the rafters in the hall. Chaplain English, of the 33rd Infantry, officiated and Lieut. Chas. Williams acted as best man. As a token of the esteem in which he is held by the enlisted men of his command a silver tea set was presented to the bridegroom and the officers presented the couple with a flat silver service.

The old coach drawn by artillery horses was the surprise which met the couple when they left the building. Twelve officers were in the party.

Sergeant William McCoy, colored, now stationed at Camp Taylor, is at home on a few days furlough. Billy says the life of the soldier at Camp Taylor is fine and they are being treated well by their superior officers. Most of the Lancaster colored boys who left here about a month ago, are now in France.

BAKER.

Mr. James D. Baker, died last Friday night at his home near Nina, after an illness of only a few days. The cause of his death being peritonitis, caused probably from being struck in the stomach by a wire fence stretcher which he was using a few days before.

Mr. Baker was a prominent citizen of that section of the county and was a prominent Mason. He is survived by his wife and three children, Ed Baker, Mrs. Cranley Ross and Mrs. Preston Snyder. Burial took place at the Buckeye cemetery and was conducted by the Masonic lodge of Kirksville, where he held his membership.

REYNOLDS.

On last Friday May 24th, about 5:00 P. M., a very sad accident occurred, while Mr. Robert Reynolds and Mr. Wagers had been delivering goods for Welch's Department store. Attempting to cross the railroad near the Berea Depot the truck which was driven by Mr. Reynolds was struck by an extra engine which was on the track, but which they did not see until too late. Mr. Wagers saw the engine in time to jump and received only slight injuries.

Mr. Reynolds had no means of escape and when the engine struck the truck, he was thrown about forty feet in the air. His skull was fractured and his body badly bruised and cut. He was hurried to the Robinson Hospital, but in spite of all that could be done for him, he died Saturday afternoon without ever regaining consciousness.

Mr. Reynolds was only twenty-five years of age, having lived near Point Leavelle, Garrard county, for some years, only a few months ago he moved to Berea.

He was a faithful member of the Baptist church and always tried to do what was right, and to live as a Christian should live. He was beloved by all who knew him and numbered his friends by his acquaintances. He leaves a wife and a darling little baby only eight months old; also father, mother, one sister and several brothers to mourn his loss. He had been married only about eighteen months, his wife being Miss Lell Coldiron, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Coldiron.

After funeral services at the Baptist church, conducted by Rev. E. B. English, he was laid to rest in Berea cemetery, beneath a beautiful mound of flowers to await the coming of that Great Day, when he will welcome those whom he has left for only a little while. X X.

NOTICE TO TEACHERS

It is very important to have the census of the district copied in the new Record Books before the first day of July. Don't fail to come to my office on Saturday June 15th, and make this copy.

The salary for the new school year, beginning July first, will be sent from Frankfort in September, according to a recent act of the Legislature, but no teacher can be paid until her record book is filled out correctly in EVERY BLANK.

BIG CHAUTAUQUA PROGRAM FOR '18

REDPATH MANAGEMENT ANNOUNCES GREAT ARRAY OF TALENT

BINGHAM FOR JOY NIGHT.

Liberty Belles Featuring a Grand Patriotic Program; Sergeant Wolff to Tell of His Thrilling Experiences On the French Front; Many Other Attractions.

Bigger and better than ever—even than the great program of 1917, this season's Chautauqua here, according to the Redpath management, is to eclipse them all.

Sergeant Bernard S. Wolff, formerly of the 13th Regiment of Engineers (U. S. A.), is to tell the remarkable story of his intensely interesting experiences in the great war. Under fire, three weeks in a French hospital, discharged for physical disability, and torpedoed on his way home, were some of the thrilling adventures which befell him. Sergeant Wolff has been through the mill and tells just the things the average man wants to hear.

Redpath patrons who remember the Kellogg-Haines Singing Party will be pleased to know that the Montague Light Opera Singers will this season present selections from the favorite light operas such as "The Mikado", "Robin Hood", "The Red Mill" and "Madame Butterfly", all of which are given in special costume. A complete operetta, "A Japanese Romance" will also be given as a special feature in the pretty costumes of the flimsy kingdom.

"Loyalty to the Home Town" will be discussed by Charles Howard Plattenburg, a recognized authority on community problems. His articles on this and kindred subjects have had a wide circulation. Mr. Plattenburg does not merely tell what ought to be done. He tells what actually has been done in many cities in the way of making progress. He emphasizes the value of civic loyalty and co-operation and shows definitely how to make efficient use of civic energy.

The Liberty Belles, presenting a grand patriotic program on the last day of the Chautauqua, have twice toured the army camps as one of Uncle Sam's Spileage companies. They are a singing orchestra of nine clever, versatile girls who, together and individually, give a stirring rapid-fire program of mirth, music and song. The girls appear the latter part of the evening in military costume and thrill the people with the lively, swinging rhythm of our martial airs, in a most fitting patriotic ensemble.

"Adam Going to School" will be the subject used by William Forkell, who is a dynamic speaker with a message and also has the happy faculty of presenting time an interesting way. During the 70-day period beginning September 1, 1917, Mr. Forkell spoke 108 times for Uncle Sam and from January 1, to April 1, he spoke over 150 times for the Third Liberty Loan in addition to his regular lecture work.

The music of the opening day will be furnished by the Fairchild Ladies Quartet, talented vocalists and skilled instrumentalists. Their program will include a pleasing variety of vocal and instrumental quartets, piano, violin, cello, soprano, and contralto solos, readings, pianolos, whistling-whistling numbers, and instrumental duets and solos.

Ralph Bingham, America's foremost platform humorist, and one of the world's greatest funmakers, will appear on the third night of the Chautauqua in a "Joy Night" supreme. Mr. Bingham's appearance will be looked forward to by old and young alike for his fun is contagious and none can resist it. For more than 30 years Mr. Bingham has been entertaining the American people and his name has become almost a household word.

The Christine Giles Company is a trio of skilled musicians presenting high class selections, both instrumental and vocal; piano, violin, and flute being the instruments used. Christine Giles-Bingham, violinist and soprano, is the talented wife of Ralph Bingham.

Detective Harry J. Looze, an active member of the Chicago Police Department and on a furlough only long enough to cover the Chautauqua circuit, will discuss "Crime and Its Prevention" on the third afternoon. Mr. Looze has made many hundreds of arrests and successful prosecutions in the Municipal, State and Federal courts and is in a position to speak authoritatively.

The children's work will begin on the first day and under the direction of a capable young lady they will present a grand patriotic pageant, in special costumes, on the fourth night.

JUNIOR RED CROSS

It was a privilege indeed to have seen the contribution of sewing from the Junior Red Cross department of the Graded School, at the workroom of the Red Cross last week.

The pupils in each grade have taken part in this, and the sewing has been supervised by Ly the teachers.

The beautiful blue and pink outfits for babies—dainty and sweet with sashet, but sweeter far, because of the tender sympathy and understanding evinced by the pupils in their work. The scrap-books so interesting and well made, handkerchiefs neatly hemmed, the pillows so soft and white, made by the very youngest children—All this will mean far more to the homeless little ones than the workers or their teachers can ever know.

The poet has said, and we with him often enough, "Who can tell what a baby thinks" but surely the "gossamer like" in the minds of the war-babies "over there" must register a thought of what peace and plenty mean, and the gift will bring dreams of a home where angels abide.

God bless our Junior Red Cross, its faithful teachers, its able Directors and all who work and pray for Peace.

The Cultivator You Hear About

THERE are a lot of cultivators on the market. Some are good—others not so good. But there is one that nearly every farmer has heard about—

International No. 4 Pivot Arm Cultivator

Every man that has ever used an International No. 4 is always ready to say a good word for its clean work and easy operation. Every man that has a boy of 14 or over ought to put him in the field with a No. 4. Chances are he will beat his dad at doing a clean job.

You can dodge in crooked rows and clean out the weeds in a way that will surprise you. This is because the wheels pivot and the gangs shift with one slight motion of the foot. Easy!—It is the simplest cultivator you ever rode on. You can change the cultivating width without stopping the team. Just a twist of the wrist.

The only way to satisfy yourself that we are not stretching the truth and also to learn about the many other exclusive features of the No. 4 is to come in and take a look at our samples.

National and Local Meat Business

The meat business of the country is conducted by various agencies—

By small slaughter-houses in villages—

By local Abattoirs or small Packing Houses in towns—

both

Using only a part of the local live stock supply and

Furnishing only a part of the local demand for meat.

These slaughtering and distributing agencies fill a well defined but necessarily restricted place in the distribution of the products of live stock.

But only packers like Swift & Company, organized on a national scale, are able to undertake the service that is more vitally important, involving

An Obligation to the Producer
To purchase for spot cash all the live stock the producer may send to market for slaughter.

An Obligation to the Consumer
To make available to every consumer, everywhere, in season and out, the full supply and variety of meat products, of the highest standard that the market affords.

A SAFE TEST.

For those who are in need of a remedy for kidney troubles and backache, there is a plan to try Don's Kidney Pills. They are strongly recommended by Lancers people.

W. E. Zanne, 141 Orchard St., Lancaster, says: "My kidneys were in a bad way and the kidney secretions contained sediment. I ran pain through my back and side. After I took Don's Kidney Pills, I could stand straight up. I used Don's Kidney Pills and they completely relieved me of all the trouble." (Lancaster, given February 6, 1912)

On November 17, 1916, Mr. Zanne said: "I gladly confirm all I said in my former endorsement of Don's Kidney Pills. I have very little trouble with my kidneys now, but when I do, I can depend on Don's Kidney Pills, for they always relieve me."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Don's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Zanne had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.

LANCASTER MAN SAVES WIFE IN NICK OF TIME

"My wife was unable to eat even the lightest food, and had fallen away to a living skeleton. She could not even keep doctor's medicine on her stomach and was tortured with pain. On the recommendation of a friend I bought a bottle of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and she is all right now and has gained forty pounds." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, ing appendicitis. One dose will cure appendicitis. One dose will cure cancer or money refunded.

Take This Great Prescription
 For Your Stomach, Liver and Kidney Troubles.

This wonderful Vin Hepatica prescription, is Nature's own remedy for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, and we want you to try it.

It is made from Nature's own medicinal roots, herbs, barks and berries, whose healing and curative properties have been known to the medical profession for centuries yet never combined into one great medicine until recently, when modern medical scientists discovered the art of combining them in the correct proportion and gave to the sick and suffering of the world the universal prescription known as Vin Hepatica.

Vin Hepatica is prepared in one of the finest medical laboratories in the United States, with all the care of a physician's special prescription. The name of every ingredient is on the package.

Vin Hepatica is truly a wonderful medicine and we heartily recommend it for indigestion, constipation, sluggish liver, kidney trouble, sleeplessness, nervousness and other ailments resulting from troubles of the stomach, liver and kidneys. You may feel all run down, have that tired out feeling; your liver may be sluggish, you may not have a good appetite.

Things may sour on your stomach as soon as you eat. You may not be able to sleep well at night. If so, come and get a bottle of Vin Hepatica and try it. We believe you will forever thank us for bringing it to your attention.
